

Letter of Intent between
ASGC and e-ScienceTalk

On behalf of Academia Sinica Grid Computing Centre (ASGC), I would like to express our continuing strong support for e-ScienceTalk, expressed in my Letter of Support for the e-ScienceTalk proposal dated November 2009.

The e-ScienceTalk project has made significant achievements in bringing the success stories of e-Science Infrastructure worldwide to policy makers in government and business, to the broader scientific community and to the general public. We support e-ScienceTalk's high quality products, e-ScienceBriefings, GridCast, International Science Grid This Week, GridGuide and the GridCafe.

ASGC has been collaborating actively with e-ScienceTalk through translating the GridCafe into Chinese, contributing articles to the International Science Grid This Week (iSGTW), and joining the blog teams at events, including ISGC11 in March 2011 in Taipei.

ASGC and e-ScienceTalk agree to continue working together on all mentioned above. In particular, ASGC offers to work with e-ScienceTalk to recruit a 0.5FTE Asia Pacific Editor for iSGTW. The Editor will be funded by ASGC to work with the Editor-in-Chief, based at CERN, and the US Editor, based at Fermilab, to provide articles, features and images focusing on the Asia Pacific region, provided that a suitable candidate can be recruited.

Signed on behalf of ASGC
by:

Name: Simon Lin (Director)

Signature: Simon C. Lin.....

Date: 20 July 2011.....

Signed on behalf of e-ScienceTalk
by:

Name: Catherine Gater (project coordinator)

Signature:

Date: